

Meridian finishes testing facility

WOODRIDGE | Meridian Design Build has completed the construction of the 26,300 square foot two-story Innovation Center at Morey Corporation's Global Headquarters. Located in Internationale Centre, the new facility increases Morey's total square footage in the park to 121,500 square feet.

The new building will serve as a technical development, engineering and testing facility for all products developed by The Morey Corporation. The facility features large-volume spaces that are designed to accommodate laboratory and testing facilities, prototype display areas and a center for engineering design.

The project was completed on a design/build basis with the assistance of project architect Schmidt Design and civil engineer Manhard Consulting Ltd.