

Midwest News

August 31, 2009

MERIDIAN DESIGN BUILD COMPLETES BTS WAREHOUSE

CHICAGO — Meridian Design Build has completed construction for a 37,942-square-foot, built-to-suit distribution facility for Gypsum Supply Co. in Chicago. The building is situated within Stockyards Industrial Park. It comprises approximately 33,000 square feet of warehouse and distribution space, approximately 3,000 square feet of office and showroom space, onsite detention facilities and a significant amount of fenced outdoor space. Sustainable features of the project include a reflective roof and bio-swales. During the construction process, approximately 2,500 tons of concrete and masonry were reused onsite and more than 92 percent of construction waste was recycled or diverted from landfills. The project architect was Cornerstone Architects.

Meridian Design Build completed an approximately 37,942-square-foot warehouse/distribution facility for Gypsum Supply Co. in Chicago.